

Conferences

Just a reminder that Fall Conferences will be held the week of October 24th-27th. The 27th will be held for day conferences, so we will not have programming on that day.

Each teacher will be available during the day on Thursday and one evening each, M-W. I will make as many conferences as I am able.

I will send out a conference sign-up form to indicate your preferences for dates and times. If you are able, please try to attend when your case manager is available.

If you have not yet, please complete all parent assessments in advance of conferences.

Parent Information Night

We will be hosting our second Parent Information Night in mid-November. This is the event where a panel of Capstone parents come together with Academy parents and answer all of their young adult questions.

This was wildly popular last year and while I would strongly encourage the previous speakers to come back, I would also like to open it up to everyone who would like to contribute. It means the world to the Academy parents (and me).

Please let me know if you are interested!

Capstone/Jamf Mentorship

We are once again starting up our 1:1 email correspondence with the employees of Jamf software. This program pairs each of our Capstone participants with a volunteer from Jamf for 10 weeks of professional email correspondence practice.

Participants will practice their professional email correspondence skills, discuss topics related to the workplace and adult life, and hopefully have fun and make a meaningful connection. Please let me know if you have questions.
